On March 5 a member of your analysis group, delivered a lecture on internal political violence in Thailand to our elective course on insurgency and	STAT terrorism. By all accounts, performance was very impressive. He was well-organized, articulate, engaging and informative. His answers to questions indicated a detailed knowledge of his subject matter.	STAT has been an important contributor to our program for the past several years. Visits by highly regarded	STAT professionals of his caliber are a vital part of our program. Please pass my sincere thanks to for another job well done.	STAT
